The Robert Mitchell with 1200 tons of freight passed down last night for New Orleans. She put off here several packages of freight.

The Bismarck passed up last night for St. Louis, the principal items of her cargo being 800 hogsheads of augar, 200 barrels of molasses and 150 hoge. She put off here 78 barrels of molasses, 15 hogsheads of sugar, and sundries. The good and staunch steamer James D. Parker, Captain Bob Wise, leaves this evening for Cairo, Louisville and Cincinnati. She has unsurpassed pussenger accommodations, and is in charge of careful boatmen. Mr. C. B. Russell does the honors of the office. The Parker will make a grand Mardi-Gras excursion trip to Memphis, leaving Cincionati in time to arrive here on the 28th, the day before Mardi-Gras. Captain Beb will have music for the occasion, and we expect to see him bring in a large number of visitors.

Burke's big wharf boat which was broken loose from her moorings at Heleps on Monday by the high winds and floated down the river was safely landed on the Mississippi side a few miles below Helena.

The Iron steamer Carondelet leaves St. Louis to morrow evening for New Orleans.

The Osceola Belle, Captain Andrews, leaves this evening for Haile's Point and way landings on the upper coast, paying strict attention to all way business Ally Hancock, a clever gentleman, presides at the deak and is seconded by Jim Franklin.

The Clarksville for Arkansas river and City of Helena for St. Louis left Vickeburg yesterday.

resterday for New Orleans. The river at St. Louis is full of run-

The upper works of the sternwheel steamer John M. Chambers was burned Wednesday evening at St. Louis while lying at the lower levee. She was damaged to the amount of $10,000, and is insured in Cincinnati offices for $20,000. The A. J. White, Captain A. L. Cummins, was delayed by the storms of Monday and yesterday and did not arrive until last night. She brought in a good trip of cotton and people and leaves this evening on a return trip to Napoleon and the bends, attending promptly to all way business. Hal Aydlett, an accommodating clerk, has charge of the office, and is assisted by Billy Smither, while Morris Herman, the celebrated steward, looks after the comforts of the guests.
